ANTANANARIVO

Antananarivo has been the home of Malagasy power for three centuries and there is a huge amount of history and culture to discover, as well as some unexpected wildlife options.

HOTEL: RELAIS DES PLATEAUX

BEKOPAKA

1 NIGHT

The tsingy of bemaraha is without doubt one of the most prestigious protected areas in Madagascar. The limestone massif is an ancient coral reef , like the Tsingy of Ankarana . At Bemaraha , erosion has created deep vertical cliffs , filled with faults and crevices ,which form a complex labyrinth of caves and rivers. At the end of the gorge de Manambolo , on foot, we get in a fairy labyrinth of grottoes, crevices, gorges in which dominate the sharpened limestone peaks « Tsingy de Bemaraha » (pinnacles)

HOTEL : SOLEIL DES TSINGY

VISITS

The National Park of Bemaraha

KIRINDY

The reserve comprises one of the most outstanding and threatened wildlife habitats in Madagascar: the dry deciduous forest. Dominated by majestic baobab trees and a forest canopy, this protected area of approximate 100 square kilometres is the only place where the world's smallest known primate, the giant jumping rat, occurs.

TO DISCOVER

- Verreaux's sifaka
- Brown lemur
- Red-fronted lemur
- Ring-tailed lemur

OTHER MAMMALS

- Giant jumping rat
- Elusive fosa,
- Striped civet (Fosa fossana)

MORONDAVA

1 NIGHT

The West coast part of Madagascar is mainly a fertile savanna, while travelling southwards we find a drier rather bushy territory with astonishing landscapes. Spectacular limestone promontories called tsingy pile up towards the North, whilst bizarre looking baobabs with immense trunks that would need several people arms to stretch them build fairy tale forests towards the South. The western coast of Madagascar is much drier than the eastern coast. Between May and November it does not rain at all and the temperatures are pleasant (20 to 25°C on average). Between December and April it rains torrentially or just a couple of showers, depending on the year.

HOTEL: PALISSANDRE COTE OUEST

VISITS

Excursion by local canoe to discover the local fishermen villagers and the mangroves
Baobabs

ANDASIBE

2 NIGHTS

A small village at half way between Tananarive and Tamatave, ANDASIBE is mainly well-known for its national reserve, one of the most accessible in the country, a primary forest of the wet tropical type, of 900 ha, where you can admire the Indri Indri, the biggest species of the day lemurs, and various night ones, among which the tiny microcebus and other races. The spot is also overcrowded with birds
